Bench Press

July 2020

Editor Merv Pearce

Presidents Report

This report comes mid-month, to enable the publishing of the bench press earlier than normal.

There has been some development on the Winton Road project, with the submission of the first quotes for the schedule of work by the City of Joondalup. The JMS committee has scrutinized the quotes and further discussion will be held on minor points of the works being undertaken. The City has been very proficient in their undertaking and working towards the first order of the construction of our new premises.

There is now some activity on the negotiations of our lease agreement with the City of Joondalup and will be starting in the very near future. We will be tapping into the expertise of our members to help us in this process.

The uptake on the renewal of membership is very encouraging and we have had some new members being inducted into the JMS family. The list is published in every issue of the newsletter so please accord a warm welcome to them.

The committee has decided to change the membership badges, which are currently being printed by Barry Fitzsimmons. They will be colour coded to clearly identify the membership status and to indicate the applicability to the sections of the shed; wood workshops, painting, metal works, social, visitors and associate lady's membership. This is to indicate the qualification, especially in the use of the machines in the workshop areas. Use of the machines will be strictly monitored on the colour of the membership card.

The notice for the AGM has been sent to all members, which will be held on the 20th August 2020, 10am, in the social room. The attendance and voting will only be open to the financial members. Notices have also been emailed and posted for the submission of nominations for all positions. Please submit them to the General Secretary to enable scrutiny and publishing of the list of nominations.

It is a sad day when one of our members has passed away, it leaves a vacuum in our midst and gives us reason to appreciate the fellowship and friendship that we develop with each other, while we enjoy their presence in the Shed. It is with great sadness that we learnt of the passing of Frank Antulov, a revered member, who has devoted his time in doing so much for the shed. We will surely miss his presence and devotion to the various tasks that he fulfilled in our Shed. Our deepest condolences to his family and our members who were close to him.

R. I. P Frank, gone but not forgotten. Though we can never bring back the splendor of days gone by, we will find strength to celebrate the life of Frank Antulov

WE NEED YOU

Vale Frank Antulov

We are deeply saddened by the sudden passing of Frank Antulov.

Frank was a long standing popular member of the shed and was always busy making toys etc. for selling at the Farmer's Markets, his specialty was making children's picnic tables. Frank was a kind bloke and regularly brought in fruit and veggies from his garden to share with his fellow shedders; his bottled jams, pickles and chutneys which he made were very popular.

Rest peacefully Frank you will always be remembered especially when we see that empty space at the bench where you used to work.

Frank's funeral service was held today Thursday 23rd July at St. Anthony's Church Wanneroo attended by an estimated two hundred people including about thirteen shedders.

Below are two photos of a young Frank.

Caring for our fellow Members

Should you hear about any of our fellow shedders being ill, experiencing the loss of a loved one or you haven't seen them at the shed for an extended period, please inform our Welfare Officer Chris Drury or Brian Abbot. Chris and Brian will make enquiries and visit if necessary and keep Shedders informed.

Welcome to new members

Malcolm McLean and Roger Revell

Welcome to the shed gentlemen we hope that you enjoy the camaraderie with the members and take part in the activities and crafts that the Joondalup Men's Shed offers.

Shed Activities and Projects

Several of these boxes were to be produced for a real estate firm, unfortunately the order was cancelled so Ken Pilkington came to the rescue and is making some up to be sold at the markets.

Orders have been received for more bird nesting boxes. Ralph Haynes pictured is working on one of the boxes.

These display stands were made for a customer who runs a jam and pickles stall at farmers markets.

It was a rough road from taking the order to the finished product. A mix up on a date for delivery was not impressed, she thought she would have them the following week and demanded her deposit back and wanted to cancel her order. After some sweet talking from Ron Slavin she relented and was prepared to wait a little longer. And then along came the infamous covid-19 causing the closure of the shed for three months. Two weeks after the re opening of the shed the stands were complete and the lady took possession of the stands and I am pleased to report that she was delighted with them.

RECYCLING ALUMINIUM CANS

The State Government will be introducing deposits on cans and plastic bottles later this year and there will be a return of ten cents per item on these containers at venues to be announced. This could be a good source of income for the shed. A receptacle has been installed in the social room. If you have any cans don't throw them in your council recycle bin, bring them in and drop them at the shed. Even though the 10cents doesn't apply yet we can still get some income by selling them for scrap to a scrap metal dealer.

BBQ Trailer

An 8x5 Box trailer was purchased from PAPAS Trailers in Dec 2019 using grant money given to JMS by Ian Goodenough.

Because we had to show that we had used the grant fully for the trailer it was decided to have the trailer painted by a local Perth artist called Sioux, who after a few variations painted the front and sides with a cartoon representation of tools.

We also had a rear view camera fitted to both the ute and the trailer to facilitate hooking up and reversing.

We met with a woman from Joondalup council health dept. who came down to see how we had set the trailer up. She suggested that instead of only using the trailer as a temporary food van, we should make it a permanent food van. This entails having hot and cold water, a serving counter, Hand sanitizer, Fire extinguisher etc.

One of our members, David, is advising us on setting up the water and Graham Duffy is organising making a mobile sink unit.

We will purchase a new flat plate BBQ for future sausage sizzles.

It is great that the shed is back in full operation and that the covid-19 restrictions have been eased. So fellow shedders let's work on keeping the place clean.

Remember to clean up machinery after each use, wash your own cups, bin any biscuit wrappers and unwanted food scraps and leave the tables clean in the social room.

Sausage Sizzles

It is great news that Bunnings will start up the sausage sizzles in August, however due to heavy demand by several other charities and organizations the shed won't be participating for several months.
